The Scoop: I am selling premium Kaladi Coffee®, delivered by me to your door, at the same price you can obtain it at local stores. One difference is freshness – the coffee I deliver to you is roasted in Anchorage and I pick it up on Tuesday at the troop meeting and you should have it no later than Saturday. Each package is a one-pound unit and is priced as such. To order, make your selection(s) on this form indicating how many one-pound packages you want in each box, enclose payment and return to me. I will order your coffee at our troop meeting, and pick it up at our troop meeting the following week. I promise, as a Boy Scout, to fill your order and deliver your coffee as soon as I can, but no later than the weekend following the Tuesday pickup. Scout's Honor!!
